

2.3 McKittrick

A meteorology tower (Figure 7) was located in the small town of McKittrick (corner of 3rd Street and C Street, McKittrick, CA 93251) which is located along the southwestern edge of the San Joaquin Valley about 60 km west of Bakersfield. The tower was located in a small field within the town limits. The only obstruction was small trailer to the south which housed electronics and computers for air quality monitors (Figure 8).
